MYSTERIOUS MAIL MESSAGE CONFOUNDS COUNCILMEN

PAHOKEE — A mysterious communication spiced up Pahokee's City Council meeting this week, but councilmen decided it was too deep for them and passed the problem back to the files.

Arriving in an envelope from the Everglades News, Canal Point weekly, the enclosure was a clipping from the Lake Worth Leader.

Heavily indicated in red pencil was a story detailing the donation of $500 from the Lake Worth city commission to the Lake Worth high school band. There was no letter enclosed with the clipping.

Pahokee Council gave up with only a slight struggle and decided they didn't get the significance of the clipping, but that it seemed a heavy hint was being dropped.

In other actions, Council DECIDED not to save drainage work for the rainy days, but to continue deepening and clearing draining facilities on SE Second St., including additional culverts, and put a drainage ditch in Lake Lane as soon as easements have been granted by property holders in that area.

ENFORCED zoning regulations of E. Main St. by referring D. E. Kirk and B. B. Justice to the zoning board of appeals for their request to move two small houses onto property in the area.

APPOINTED Building Inspector Frank Thompson, Councilman Louis F. Mims, and Dr. L. W. Armstrong as a committee to work out specifications for an apartment Armstrong wants to build in colored town.

ACCEPTED final estimate on the city sidewalk project and authorized payment for completion of the 3,600 feet of new sidewalk in three city blocks.

Roberts, who is engaged in sugar cane research himself, discusses the fascination of Cleland with the possibilities of Florida "for the certain production of"

Rabbits Game Again

TALLAHASSEE — Rabbits may be taken year-round, according to a change in the hunting regulations approved recently by members of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Charles W. Pace, Commission Director, stated that the new rules governing the taking of rabbits authorize the killing of rabbits during all 12 months of the year, with no license required except when taking rabbits during the season regularly opened for the taking of game birds.

Other regulations include no bag limit, rabbits may be taken only during the time between one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, except under special permit by the commission director or his authorized agents, and although rabbits may be consumed or given away by the takers the sale of this animal is prohibited.

Last fall rabbits were put on the game list in an effort to decrease gun and light hunting for other species of animals. When hunters were discovered in the woods with such equipment their statement was that they were hunting rabbits and cases of intended violations were thrown out of court.

Since placing rabbit on the game list, gun and light hunting has decreased considerably, according to Wildlife Officers. However, many other complaint from sportsmen and farmers whose property and crops are being destroyed through out the state resulted in the liberalized regulations for hunting rabbits, the commission director said.

Reg. Books For Glades

Gladeswide registration for voters was accomplished this week when County Registrar DeWitt Upthegrove arranged for registration books to open at Pahokee and South Bay City Halls.

Belle Glade has had the books at the Chamber of Commerce office, and they will continue to be available there, according to Executive Secretary Edwina Young.

Mrs. Roy Lovell, city clerk of South Bay, was notified by Upthegrove that he will be at South Bay City Hall Friday, Mar. 19, from 1 to 7:30 p.m. to register voters for the coming county, state, and national contests.

In Pahokee, City Clerk Dorothy Graham and her staff were invited to have their books handle the registration in that area.

Mrs. Graham said registration may be made at the Clerk's office, City Hall, during business hours from now until the close of business Apr. 3. For those who cannot come to register during those 8 to 5 hours, Mrs. Graham will make special arrangements for registration if they will call her, she said.

Months And Months

We were not cheered this week, trying to drive the Palm Beach road between Loxahatchee and town, to receive the State Road Department's latest estimate that four long months lie ahead before that travel horror is finished.

The roads in the Glades area itself are not much better—as we all know.

The State Road Department appears to be playing-punt and take with fill, and the county has a habit of using patching material especially made to come right out again when the first wheels pass over it.

We have listened with interest while Legislature Candidate Fred O. Dickinson, Jr., running for the place John Bollinger is giving up, and Arthur Hamilton, Jr., opposing Incumbent County Commissioner Lake Lytal, have told us of their plans (if elected) to "do something" about the road situation in this area. We hope they mean every word of it.

HEROS — ALL ! : Congressman Syd Herlong is telling this one around Capitol Hill. Following the shooting, one member of the House said to another member, "After this affair, I think we should vote to give ourselves combat pay." His friend said, "From the way our colleagues were getting out of there, I think it should be FLIGHT PAY."

LO, THE POOR INDIAN: The Florida Seminoles were in town to state their case before a joint committee on Indian Affairs. An officially elected delegation of eight Indians was over-shaded by a self appointed delegate, Mike Inceola, Indian business man from Miami. Mike captivated the interest of the committee chairman by his testimony that three years ago he started in business with $1.35 and now his business is worth 150,000. Mike, it seems, can read and write.

TICKETS: The old Chinese saying, "No tickets, no laundry" took on a new meaning in Washington after the shooting in the House. The open gallery in the House now has been closed. Admission is only by "guest card." If any of you have green cards which admit you to the House gallery — you can throw them away. They were printed overnight and the green ones were voided next day — as a security measure.

SMATHERS VS COMMUNISTS: Look for Senator Smathers to add his name as one of the sponsors to a bill to outlaw communism in the U.S. The bill was introduced by Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R) of Maine, one of the most respected members of the Senate, and held in high personal regard by Smathers. "We should start prosecuting (reds) and stop persecuting (loyal Americans)," Smathers said. "The reds should be in jail and not appearing before Congressional Committees."

MORE ABOUT FLOOD CONTROL: When it comes to fighting to get the Republican Congress to give back to Florida the flood control money which was cut off by Congress last year, the entire Florida delegation shows up in a body. No one was missing from last week's hearing before the Civil Functions subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Appropriations when the Florida flood control problem was presented for the 100th time. Col. H.C. Gee, consulting engineer, spoke for the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project, and the entire Florida delegation backed him up with speeches and

I'm thinking again. The bosses got their oar in this week, and while I reviewed a list of significant subjects suitable for canine discussion, their yacking finally got me down and before I knew what had happened I started thinking.

The all began with a discussion of ciphers.

Now any mathematician is going to pick up his oar or ears at that.

However, I got news for you, as the script says: this isn't that kind of cipher.

The definition of cipher (I discovered this by pawing madly through the nearest Webster's Collegiate Dictionary) is "a character or symbol denoting the absence of all magnitude or quantity."

The cipher the bosses were talking about is musical, not mathematical.

So far as I can tell, the meaning is the same, only you apply it to pipe organ music.

If you do, a cipher is what happens when an organ key sticks and creates the most unfortunate sound known to musical composition.

One of the bosses has a cousin (a very intelligent cousin, being fond of dogs) who is a real artist at the pipe organ. That is where the bosses found out about ciphers.

It seems that this cousin was a great cipher-eliminator, and could continue the music through a church service even when the organ fluted pipe stuck (or got a cipher) and screamed through 20 minutes of the service like a banshee who got into the wrong church.

The best way to eliminate ciphers (musical) is to keep tapping the offending key while the scheduled music is being played, according to the bosses' observance of cipher-eliminating.

If all else fails, a cipher can be eliminated by "playing good and loud" until the poor wailing note is just defeated and gives up.

This discussion of ciphers continued while the record player produced great pipe — organ music, thundering up and down our street until it's a wonder the highway patrol didn't get a complaint.

I have always been a dog who enjoyed good solid Teutonic music such as "Ach, Du Lieber Augustin," but listening to pipe-organ music has changed my mind.

From now on it's Bach, Purcell, and that sort of thing, because (and there are too few, the bosses said) who can produce a rippling fugue or a crashing chord from a pipe organ and deal with a cipher at the same time is work looking into.

If there's a church around that has a pipe organ with recurring ciphers, I'd like to try my paw at eliminating them.

Meantime, the bosses are sending their congratulations to the cousin who has spent about 40 years in the cipher-eliminating business.

Which is a mighty record of steadfastness.

PAHOKEE—Americanism vs. Communism was the topic of a talk before Pahokee Rotary Club yesterday noon by Attorney Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson, Jr., candidate for state legislature, Group 1.

"All enemies of the United States of America must be our target. . . . The Communists and all other enemy states must always know that our strength is in our people — that our officials are under oath to adhere to that strength," Dickinson said.

"We must treat the office holder who betrays the confidence of the people as a traitor, for he is nothing less," said the West Palm Beach lawyer.

Dickinson said that an alert citizenry must guard the freedom of this nation, mindful of the ways of the service men who gave their lives in Korea fighting Communism.

He outlined the difference in the American, democratic form of government and the "fanatical philosophy" of Communism. The speaker was introduced by Benjamin S. Roberts.

Dickinson addressed the Pahokee Lions club Tuesday on the same subject.

By BENJAMIN S. ROBERTS

Will the Senate of the United States curb Senator McCarthy before he further imperils the rights of Americans as free men?

No conscientious citizen of the United States questions the wisdom of ferreting out Communists and bringing them to justice. Citizens should, however, object vociferously to the rapid destruction by Senator McCarthy's tactics of the fabric of our institutions. His purposes and aims are in the national interest; his methods reveal a misguided sense of responsibility and a misconception of his duties as a Senatorial investigator.

A house is sturdily built to withstand the vicissitudes of wind, weather and living. When termites are discovered in the sills the exterminator should not destroy the house in ridding it of the pests. Instead he shores up the framework while he goes about his job or ridding the infected timbers of the insects.

That the Senate appointed a subcommittee to find the implacable foe in our midst is creditable. Their appointment of Senator McCarthy may have been well advised at the time investigations began. However, the methods the Senator has used and is using in his hunt for Communists represent imperviousness to a justifiable end. Why? The use of totalitarian devices to reach democratic ends has imperiled the very basis of freedom which is representative of America at home and abroad.

By setting at odds the Executive and Legislative Departments of our Government is his handling of the "Army" case, Senator McCarthy has given the Government if we have weakness in our Government it is the duty of all American people through their elected representatives to see that needed investigations and corrective measures are taken. It is not a one man prosecutor, judge and jury job.

Therefore, it is manifest that the Senate act to set up procedures and policies consistent with the historical precedents of this nation to protect it from subversive activities. It should act at once to curb McCarthy lest he destroy the system he has earnestly but misguidedly tried to save.

Basques on the French-Spanish border have netted wood pigeons commercially for generations, says the National Geographic Society. Each fall thousands of birds fly through a narrow Pyrenees pass en route to the warm Mediterranean. Hunters hurl wooden disks in the air to imitate hawks in flight; frightened pigeons fly low for fear of falcon attacks from above and are trapped in nets. For every bird snared, 50,000 evade the ambush.

Pitchforks are still sticking around on U.S. farms, according to the Florida Farm Bureau. The bureau says that a recent U.S. Department of Agriculture report reveals that 31 percent of all hay is still put up loose. Twine balers account for 38%; wire-tie 24%, and field choppers 7%.

A recent survey reveals that in buying eggs, 66 percent of housewives look for quality; 23 percent look at price and that only 9 percent go by size, according to the Florida Farm Bureau. The Bureau says that the survey also disclosed that nearly half of all U. S. families have eggs for breakfast every day; that fried eggs are preferred by 60 percent of people; poached and boiled by 14 percent and scrambled 12 percent.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Steve Tips the Balance

Was just leaving home this morning when the Missus reminded me to stop at Steve and Al's Meat Market for a pound of hamburger. "Be sure to get it from Steve," she said. "Why?" I wondered. So when I got to the market I asked Steve if he knew. "I'll tell you, Joe," he said. "Al and I sell the same meat, and a pound is a pound. Maybe it's just that we go at it differently."

"Al loads the scales and takes away 'til he has a pound. But I put too little on and start adding."

To your wife — that probably looks like a better buy." From where I sit, there's always more than one way to approach a thing and still come out fair and square to all. My wife likes a cup of tea with dinner; I prefer a temperate glass of beer. We get along fine. Gets me pretty mad though, when somebody starts "throwing his weight around" and demands that I see things exactly his way.

HAY FEVER TIME

Spring is a time for hay fever and only those who suffer from the allergic reaction caused by any one of several pollens can understand the misery brought about by this condition.

The disease is caused by the inhalation of microscopic pollens given off by various plants. Symptoms include sneezing, watering of the eyes, running of the nose and itching of the nose, throat and palate. A Spring type of the disease, beginning at the end of March or early April and extending to the end of May, is mainly caused by the pollens of trees. Summer hay fever, sometimes called "hay fever," begins at the end of May and extends to the middle of July. Various grasses are pollen sources.

In the Fall type of hay fever, usually running from the middle of August until the first frost, the pollen of ragweed is principally responsible. This group has the greatest number of victims.

It is generally believed that heredity is a factor in hay fever. Persons who suffer regularly from the disease are usually urged to be tested for sensitivity, a condition of exaggerated susceptibility to some specific substance which is in itself harmless for most individuals.

Each section of the United States has about 30 pollens which may cause hay fever. Knowing this, the physician is able to test the patient, and when the offending pollen is determined it is then possible to sensitize the patient to the pollen which is causing his symptoms.

This course of treatment may take several weeks, thus it is unwise to wait until the attack begins before seeing the doctor. It is better for the sufferer to have treatment each year with desensitization at regular intervals, so that he is protected at the time when the pollen begins to fill the air.

While there are many remedies for hay fever, these do not cure; they serve merely to relieve the patient. Every allergic person should have his doctor's care for many complications may develop, sometimes with fatal results.

Where's Kilroy now?

Ever think of him — that legendary hero who left his mark at Okinawa, St. Lo, Anzio Beach? "Kilroy was here!" meant hope to millions of oppressed people. Quite a guy, that Kilroy.

Where is he now? He's sweating it out in Korea. Walking a rampart in North Africa. On guard in Germany. Recovering in a military hospital. Kilroy's around, all right.

But he often feels that folks don't know it. And that's where you come in. For when you join your Red Cross, you help Kilroy get home when there's a family emergency. And when homesick Kilroy needs a bit of encouragement, you are there to cheer him up.

You are, if you join your Red Cross. Join generously — for Kilroy is all over the world!

You are there, too! When the shattered lives and homes of disaster victims are rebuilt, when blood saves a life, or first aid saves a drowning child, you are there — when you join the Red Cross. Of course you believe in helping people, so join today!
